

MillerKnoll

Thank you for attending our session on “Coworking, An overview by Coworking Specialist You’ll find below a few useful links that were either referenced or discussed during the two sessions.

First thing first, if you wish to connect with Pauline Roussel on LinkedIn or Instagram. To discover her book, click here, and in case you are interested in placing an order, use the code millerknoll at checkout for a discount, the code will expire on December 9th, 2022.

In the meantime, if you wish to access the digital experience behind “Around The World in 250 Coworking Spaces” and receive weekly coworking inspiration, make your way here.

If you are curious to read about the early days of coworking, check out this article by Brad Neuberg, the person who actually opened the first ever space branded as a coworking space.

If you are curious to get an accurate summary about the history of WeWork, check out this timeline by Business Insider and make sure to watch WeCrashed (On Apple TV) for the “dramatic” version.

Below is the list of coworking spaces presented during Pauline’s session with links to their websites:

The Nest City Lab - Barcelona, Spain

Juggle Hub - Berlin, Germany

KitchenTown - San Francisco, USA

Fashion For Good - Amsterdam, The Netherlands

The Social Hub - Originally from Rotterdam (NL) but has 17 locations across Europe today

The Coven - Minneapolis, USA

Hotspot - Bucharest, Romania

Paperwork - Bangkok, Thailand

Nagatacho GRiD - Tokyo, Japan

Morino Office - Fujimi, Japan

Senior Planet - Originally from New York, USA

In case you wish to access any other information from Pauline’s presentation, do not hesitate to reach out to her directly either on LinkedIn or via email: pauline@coworkies.co

If you are interested in Wellness and Well-being in Coworking Spaces join Pauline’s online session on the topic next week.

Last but not least, if you happen to be in Prague on December 8th, get a free ticket to the Coworking Symposium event during which Pauline and Dimitar will present their book while introducing spaces from the Czech Republic featured in it as well.